Jackson County Historical Society Meeting—April 9 at 2:30 at the Crawford W. Long Museum in Jefferson

Martha Redus will present a program for the Jackson County Historical Society meeting: Cherokee Genealogy: The Path from Family Folklore to Proven Ancestry. During her presentation, Ms. Redus will discuss the important Cherokee records collected between 1817 and 1924, showing examples of each and demonstrating how information from the more recent Cherokee rolls can lead the family researcher back to ancestors on the earlier rolls.

Ms. Redus is a member of the Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma, a professional genealogist and lecturer specializing in Cherokee research. She is the owner of CHEROKEE COUSINS—a business offering genealogical research services and books on Cherokee genealogy, language, and history.
